

Welcome to our new version!

Contributed by Mohamad Syahir B. Mohamad Zaini
Wednesday, 14 November 2007
Last Updated Tuesday, 18 December 2007

Welcome to Zerodeuxsix.com!

Zerodeuxsix!

Zerodeuxsix, a French word that means Zero, Two, Six, (if we translate it to English). 026, which also means 02-06, is officially our batch number and theoretically, it shows that we entered SDAR on year 2002 and quit on year 2006. That number is so symbolic and it made us to use it as our unofficially batch's name, Zerodeuxsix. Although there are others student of others school using the same number, but we proudly to say that Zerodeuxsix is ours! The name also had been agreed by our batch holder, Muzal and our headboy, Helmi. The name was inspired by one of our batch members, Mousa Azadin through a poet by his own. He also is one of the best French student in Monsieur Zaili's class.
Zerodeuxsix.com!

According to the history, zerodeuxsix.com was developed officially in the middle of year 2005. It begun when one of our webmaster, Syahir Zaini, came out with an idea to build a website for our batch. The main purpose of the website is to maintain our batch members long-lasting friendship, like what you can see just now. Plus, he is so excited when knowing that our senior's batch had their own website earlier than us. That is why he was so eager to do this. All the moment that we had shared together along 5 years in SDAR are always being remembered by all of us in this website through photos and words. We talk, speak, laugh, gossip, and also condemn other people in this site (but in a soft way). Eventhough almost of the web content is on restricted level, but visitors still can read the news that can be viewed by public.

Zerodeuxsix Purple!

As you can see, from top to the bottom, this website using purple as its default theme colour. This is because purple is our batch colour. When we were at SDAR, from prep shirt to sport shirt, and also name tag, we were using purple as the colour. And for your information, im proud to say that this lovely Zerodeuxsix Purple theme was contributed by Hasbi Din and Syahir Zaini.

According to the history, zerodeuxsix.com was developed officially in the middle of year 2005. It begun when one of our webmaster, Syahir Zaini, came out with an idea to build a website for our batch. The main purpose of the website is to maintain our batch members long-lasting friendship, like what you can see just now. Plus, he is so excited when knowing that our senior's batch had their own website earlier than us. That is why he was so eager to do this. All the moment that we had shared together along 5 years in SDAR are always being remembered by all of us in this website through photos and words. We talk, speak, laugh, gossip, and also condemn other people in this site (but in a soft way). Eventhough almost of the web content is on restricted level, but visitors still can read the news that can be viewed by public.